More than 20,000 red-coated British regulars &

There is a time, according to Ecclesinates, appointed for all things. This is the time for questions.

It's the best of all times to find out what's wrong with our city, our county, state and union. It's best because the qualifying periods are over and on every level of government, politicians are courting the public in hopes of getting public offices of one type of another.

John Doe-wants to complain about utility of the county of reach. Some of those are genuinely responsive to questions posed by citizens year-round.

But anyone who can't reach a public officer when he's running for election or re-election just int trying. But when the question is posed and the answer comes, we do have a couple of suggestions:

Don't accept a simple "I don't know" or an evasive answer. Pin the person don'n. Nobody can be expected to have all the answers and there's be expected to have all the answers and there's they've at least attempted to find that answer. If they can't come up with it, there ought to be some good reason why. Find out what that person is.

That idea that seems so great right now may have some serious flaws or there might'be political reasons why it'll never work. Don't expect every idea to bear fruit.

Two, or four, or six years from now, there's going to be a reckoning. Everybody looking for an office or trying to keep an office now will eventually have to try again. Sugar cane growers are always looking for ways to boost productivity. Have you ever looked at the top onethird of the cane?

Now there's a way to turn those immature upper nodes into valuable harvest cane. With an application of Polaris® Plant Growth Regulator by Monsanto, the chemical that stimulates sugar cane ripening. by Monsanto, the chemical that Extensive field tests by Monsanto have proven that it's now possible to get more recoverable sucrose from the top third of cane, which is the part that is not optimally ripened as a result of poor ripening conditions, such as warm, wet weather. In fact, under poor ripening conditions, · Polaris can increase sucrose levels overall, giving you more recoverable sucrose from every ton of cane. Contact your Monsanto representa-
